

ED KINNEY

Vice President, Corporate Affairs and Communications

Ed Kinney serves as vice president, corporate affairs and communications for Marriott Vacations Worldwide Corporation. Mr. Kinney originally joined the company in 1990 where he served as director of marketing for Marriott Vacation Club's first international resort in Nassau, Bahamas. He was later promoted to director of field marketing for all Marriott Vacation Club properties. His career with Marriott continued to grow and in 1996 he became senior director of brand advertising and communications. In his current role, Mr. Kinney oversees all public relations for the company and its brands. Mr. Kinney also serves as corporate spokesperson, overseeing intellectual property management, media and community relations, brand awareness and crisis management.

Mr. Kinney is also actively involved in the community and has previously served as chairman of the American Resort Development Association's Public Relations Committee and actively serves on the hospital board of Orlando Health which includes the Arnold Palmer Hospital for Children and The Winnie Palmer Hospital for Women and Babies. He is also closely involved with Children's Miracle Network Hospitals.

###